Brass Rings for Everybody . . .

By Norman G. Shidle

Every school child knows Leigh Hunt's poem about Abou Ben Adhem who awoke one night from a deep dream of peace . . . to find an angel in his room writing in a book of gold. He was writing, the visitant said, "The names of those who love the Lord."

Learning that his name was missing, Abou took it philosophically and, in effect, said: "Well then, how's for just writing me down as one who loves his fellow men?"

"The angel wrote and vanished."

Next night came the denouement. He came again and showed the names of those the love of God had blessed. . . . "And Lo! Ben Adhem's name led all the rest."

There are, of course, always some youthful skeptics in the class who claim Abou got up front because his name started with the letter A followed by the letter B. . . . But, experience in later life convinces most of them that loving one's fellow men is a pretty practical way to get ahead.

Take a list like that of SAE membership, for example. Its engineers love their fellow engineers sufficiently to want to be a part of a mutual-help organization. Otherwise their names wouldn't get on the SAE list to start with . . . nor stay on year after year. The 25, 35, and 50 year members, in fact, are surest that they get out of SAE in proportion to what they put in.

Every veteran member knows he may open his Roster Issue at any page, put his finger on a name, and have a good chance of its being one which, like old Abou, "leads all the rest"—in some way.

Each member has his peculiar contribution to make. Each one "leads all the rest" in some particular. Each one has something special to give, which will bring back buttered his SAE bread. The more experienced the member, the more certain he is that each of his fellows is entitled to the brass ring at some turn of the merry-go-round.

"The Best of Everything"

by George Delaney

SAE President for 1956

SAE IS GREAT because its members have never been satisfied with anything except the best of everything.

A healthy dissatisfaction with mediocrity has characterized almost every attack on SAE problems. It has shaped the thinking of almost every member, every committee, and every Council throughout our 50 years of life. . . . It has also stimulated succeeding SAE leaders. It has stirred them to seek ever new ways to implement the Society's Constitutional aim "to promote the Arts and Sciences and Standards and Engineering Practices . . ." in what we have come to know as the automotive industries.

As I face the high responsibilities with which you have honored me, I think I see a new opportunity for constructive emphasis in 1956. The time has come, I believe, to relate this Constitutional guidance more closely to the operating needs of 1956 and after.

To do that, we must constantly restate and refocus that guidance in specific objectives for operating programs. Our major administrative committees should continue to spell out, for Council's guidance, the best way to seek these technical aims . . . in terms of meetings, in terms of publications, in terms of Section, membership, financial and other Society activities.

The Sections executive committee, for example, is currently talking with Council about a new statement of the basic objectives for SAE Sections—against which both Council and Sections can bounce their problems. Then everybody's thinking on varied Section problems can start from and return to a homeplate.

Another "for instance" is the broad statement or "philosophy" currently being worked up by a special committee to guide future decisions about SAE recognitions and awards. I happened to sit in a meeting recently where this group was moving toward a meeting of minds on such a statement.

Other committees also have already started on similar restatements of objectives. . . . And, of course,

"The Best of Everything"

by George Delaney

SAE President for 1956

SAE IS GREAT because its members have never been satisfied with anything except the best of everything.

A healthy dissatisfaction with mediocrity has characterized almost every attack on SAE problems. It has shaped the thinking of almost every member, every committee, and every Council throughout our 50 years of life. . . . It has also stimulated succeeding SAE leaders. It has stirred them to seek ever new ways to implement the Society's Constitutional aim "to promote the Arts and Sciences and Standards and Engineering Practices . . ." in what we have come to know as the automotive industries.

As I face the high responsibilities with which you have honored me, I think I see a new opportunity for constructive emphasis in 1956. The time has come, I believe, to relate this Constitutional guidance more closely to the operating needs of 1956 and after.

To do that, we must constantly restate and refocus that guidance in specific objectives for operating programs. Our major administrative committees should continue to spell out, for Council's guidance, the best way to seek these technical aims . . . in terms of meetings, in terms of publications, in terms of Section, membership, financial and other Society activities.

The Sections executive committee, for example, is currently talking with Council about a new statement of the basic objectives for SAE Sections—against which both Council and Sections can bounce their problems. Then everybody's thinking on varied Section problems can start from and return to a homeplate.

Another "for instance" is the broad statement or "philosophy" currently being worked up by a special committee to guide future decisions about SAE recognitions and awards. I happened to sit in a meeting recently where this group was moving toward a meeting of minds on such a statement.

Other committees also have already started on similar restatements of objectives. . . . And, of course, some such process has always gone on in one way or another.

Our committees have always been alert to changing needs and changing times. That's why "The SAE Story" records 50 years of steady progress.

Our techniques for exchanging technical ideas have been constantly improved. The scope of the information itself has been broadened—both as to areas covered and as to coverage within existing areas. The quality is being maintained as the quantity keeps getting greater and greater.

Each year we are serving more and more automotive engineers with technical ideas—and with a chance to participate in developing and exchanging those ideas.

So, I urge no change in the trends nor the character of SAE development and growth. But I do see an increasing need to express these trends as written guideposts.

Art Rosen, your 1955 president, has already started this ball rolling. Strides toward focusing our tested traditions for future use constitute a major achievement of our Golden Anniversary year.

In that way, we can make available to the future—in workable form—traditions which have proved themselves through 50 years of successful progress.

I look forward to continuing—and, I hope, accelerating—that development in 1956.

Through this process, I believe, we can carve out our ideals in programs and progress. . . . We can improve the quality of every phase of our operation. . . . We can, in short, insure a continuance of the best of everything for SAE members through SAE members.

The 1956 SAE President Is

GEORGE A. DELANEY, SAE President for 1956, is chief engineer of GM's Pontiac Motor Division and an outstanding designer and executive. Quick, clear analysis of administrative as well as technical questions is an outstanding Delaney characteristic, associates say. He attacks and solves problems in human relations or engineering with equal facility and success.

SAE has already profited greatly from his application of these qualities to its operations. A careful overhaul of every detail of the SAE Constitution was made in 1947 during his term as chairman of the Constitution Committee. Major improvements in integration and operation of meetings accrued from his work as National Meetings Committee chairman from 1947 to 1950 . . . and he has contributed importantly as a member and chairman of the Society's governing technical committee agency, the SAE Technical Board.

Delaney is one to want the facts—the right facts—before taking action. This preoccupation stems from his conviction that solution of any problem soon becomes evident when the right facts are collected and applied intelligently. But he gets facts and handles them with none of the belligerent “show me” attitude traditionally attributed to the Missourian. In fact, the Missouri phase of his career ended in 1917, when he left University of Missouri with a B.S. degree and joined the U.S. Army at the first Officers Training Camp in Fort Riley, Kans. That was just over 22 years after his birth in Center-view, Mo.

He served two years as a first lieutenant in the 340th Field Artillery, 89th Division, and nearly a year at Savage Arms Corp. in Sharon, Pa., before going to Detroit to stay. He started there as a trouble-shooter in the old Paige-Detroit Motor Car Co. Before that company became Graham-Paige, he had been made assistant chief engineer.

Delaney joined Pontiac as electrical engineer in 1934, became assistant chief engineer in 1939, and chief engineer in 1946. During World War II he supervised aircraft engineering at GM's Fisher Body Division.

Delaney likes good fellowship, smokes cigars, and plays an indifferent game of golf. He joined SAE late in 1922, has served as Detroit Section treasurer since June, 1950; as a member of SAE's Finance Committee since 1952.

About the 1956 Council

THE 22 members of SAE's 1956 Council represent a good cross-section . . . of technical knowledge and interests, of SAE Section experience, of geographical origins, and of SAE administrative and technical committee participation.

They represent a good cross-section, too, of age groups, of educational backgrounds, and hobby interests.

Average age of 1956 Council members is 55.3 years, with exactly 30 years difference between the oldest (70) and the youngest (40). The year 1893 has particular significance, as in it were born three of the 1956 Council members. . . . And the month of May has more Council-member birthdays (four) than any other. But the 22 can say "Happy Birthday" to some fellow-member in every month except January and August—and to three of them in both October and December.

The 12 different states represented in the list of Council-member birthplaces stretch pretty continuously from coast to coast—with something of a gap in the Rocky Mountain time zone. Four were born in Pennsylvania—more than in any other single state. California and New York tie for second place with three each; Illinois, two. Only one began life in each of the other represented states: Florida, Idaho, North Carolina, Massachusetts, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, and Missouri. Two were born in Canada—and still live and work there.

Understanding of Section problems by the 1956 Council will be high, since nine of its 22 members have previously been chairman of an SAE Section. The list, and the Section of which each is a past-chairman: Leonard Raymond and B. B. Bachman (Philadelphia); A. W.

Pope, Jr. (Milwaukee); K. E. Coppock (Detroit); T. L. Preble and M. C. Horine (Metropolitan); W. G. Nostrand (Northern California); F. O. Hosterman (Southern California); and M. P. Jolley (Canadian).

Of this past-chairman group, Jolley, Nostrand, and Horine will be completing the second year of a two-year term as Councilors for 1955-1956. Preble, Zimmerli, and Pope are Councilors for the 1956-1957 term. B. B. BACHMAN is again treasurer . . . while Raymond, Coppock, and Hosterman are vice-presidents.

Some members of this 1956 Council will rise to the playing of the Alma Mater of any one of 18 different colleges. But the largest single delegation (four) will stand up for Michigan's "Yellow and Blue". . . . Three will stand when University of California's song is played. Only one will honor M.I.T., Yale, Columbia, North Carolina State, Albion, University of Missouri, and others.

Six of the 1956 Council members have served previously, including Past-President WILLIAM LITTLEWOOD and C. G. A. ROSEN, both of whom were vice-presidents before becoming president. Littlewood was vice-president for Aircraft Activity in 1939 and later was the first Air Transport vice-president when that Activity came into being in 1945. Rosen, too, served two terms on the Council before becoming president. He was vice-president for Diesel Engine Activity in 1940 and a Councilor for the 1943-1944 term.

The other four Council members who are returning (and the dates of their previous service) are: A. W. Pope, Jr. (vice-president for Diesel Engine Activity, 1937); T. L. Preble (vice-president for Transportation and Maintenance Activity, 1941); F. P. Zimmerli (vice-president for Engineering Materials Activity, 1951); M. C. Horine (vice-president for Truck and Bus Activity, 1933).

backgrounds of the 22 men responsible for SAE's 1956 destinies combine to assure the Society a vigorous start on its second half-century. A look at a highlight or two in the career of each points up such assurance.

Two Canadians on '56 Council

Of the two Canadians on the 1956 Council, M. P. JOLLEY, serving the second year of his 1955-1956 Councilor term, continues to carry on as vice-president and general manager of Canadian Acme Screw & Gear Co. He'll still be participating in the operation of other important industries, also, as a director of Russell Industries, Ltd.; John Bertram & Sons Co., Ltd.; Canada Cycle & Motor Co., Ltd.; Ontario Research Foundation, and Canadian Arsenals, Ltd.

J. T. DYMENT, Trans-Canada Air Lines' director of engineering, is the

A SOUTHERN CALIFORNIAN is F. O. Hosterman, Vice-President for Aircraft Activity.

1956 vice-president representing Air Transport Activity. His present jet engine problems are a far cry from those he faced right after getting out of University of Toronto in 1929. Then he spent a year and a half at Ford doing design work on the old Ford Tri Motor. He arrived at Trans-Canada Air Lines (in 1938) by way of six years in the Aeronautical Engineering Division of the Department of National Defense in Ottawa and two years in its Department of Transport. In 1945 he was awarded the Gzowski Medal by the Engineering Institute of Canada for his paper on "The Engineering Selection of an Airline Airplane."

Four Started on Eastern Seaboard

The only 1956 Council member born in an Eastern Seaboard state, except the three who started in New York, has been a Middle Westerner most of his business life. He is:

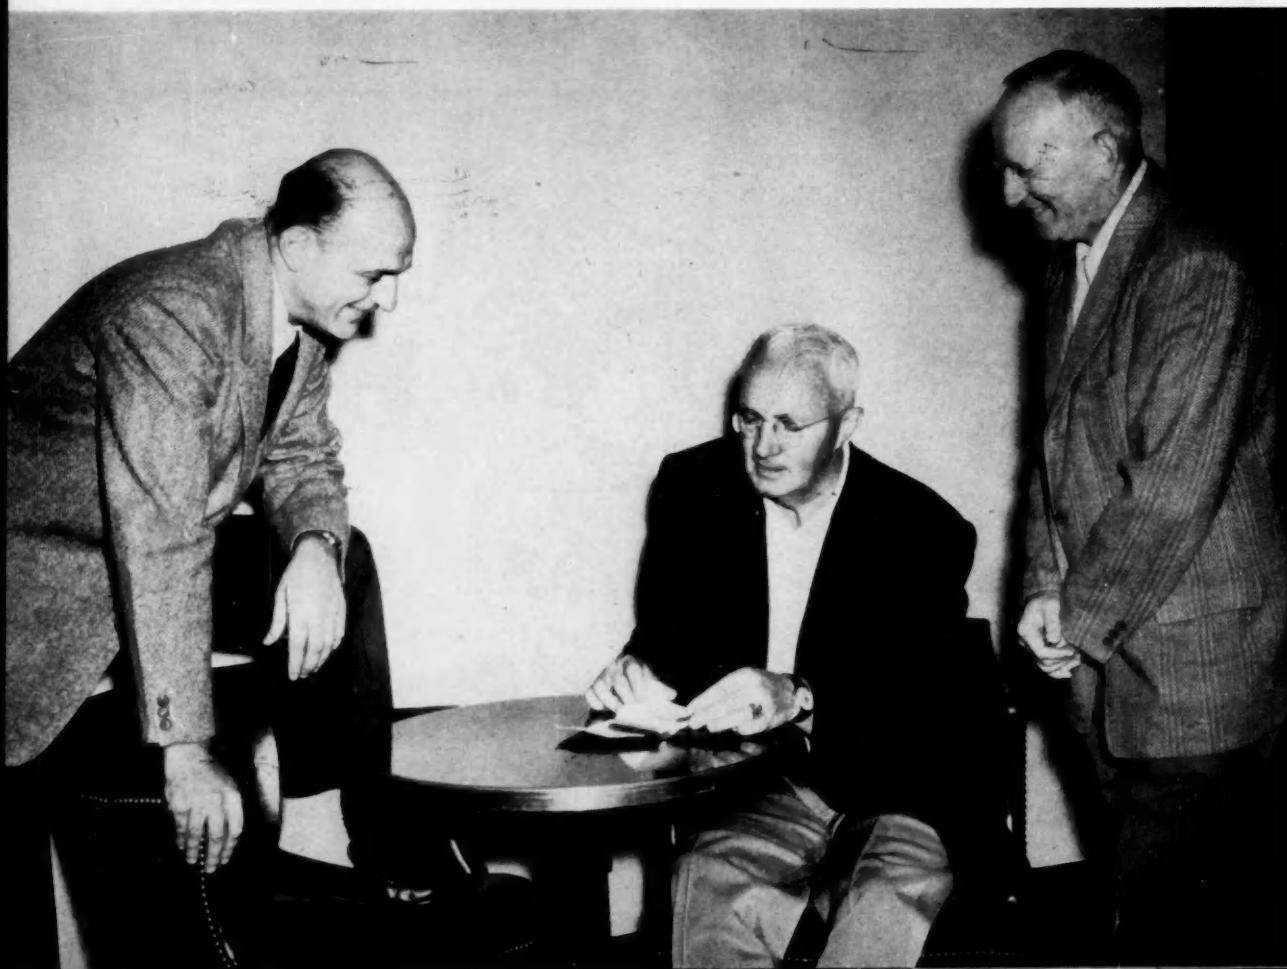

E. H. KELLEY, who is vice-president for Production Activity. Born in Lowell, Mass., Kelley did some engineering work in Boston before going to Studebaker in Indiana in 1924.

Four years later, he joined Chevrolet and has held increasingly responsible positions there in both design and manufacturing ever since. He is one of the few men to have been successfully and successively chief engineer and then manufacturing manager of a major producing company. Formerly Chevrolet's chief engineer, Kelley is now manufacturing manager. He has long been active in SAE and has contributed greatly to both National and Section operations, including several years as chairman of the Meetings Committee.

Of the three birthright New York City Council members, only one is working there today — LEONARD RAYMOND. Past-President William Littlewood now makes his headquarters in Washington and F. P. Zimmerli has long been a Michigander.

Raymond is vice-president for Fuels and Lubricants Activity—and is chief automotive engineer for Socony Mobil Oil Co. Not only has he been a Section chairman (Philadelphia) but has just completed a term as chairman of the Society's Sections Committee.

AT WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, where Detroit Section again held its Summer Meeting last fall, two fellow 1956 Vice-Presidents make sure that Paul C. Ackerman, VP for Passenger Car Activity, adds his golf score accurately. The checkers are (left) A. L. Pomeroy, VP for Aircraft Powerplant Activity, and (right) Leonard Raymond, VP for Fuels & Lubricants Activity.

ACCURATE WITH A SHOTGUN is 1956-57 Councilor F. P. Zimmerli, who ranks high among the amateur trap and skeet shooters of the country.

COUNCILOR FOR 1956-57 is A. W. Pope, Jr.

Raymond joined Socony Mobil's Paulsboro Laboratories in 1945, was transferred to the Lubricating Department in 1953, and assumed his present position in 1954. He has a Master's degree from Columbia and has been active in Coordinating Research Council work.

Councilor F. P. ZIMMERLI (for 1956-1957) is an ardent sportsman as well as a distinguished engineer. A few years ago, he won the American Society for Metals highest form of recognition for technical achievement, the Albert Sauveur Achievement Award. The award went to him for his work demonstrating that favorable stresses could be imparted by shot peening to the surface layers of metal parts. He started with both Bachelor's and Master's degrees in Chemical Engineering from Michigan; got a good start in metallurgical and chemical engineering by working with the Solvay Process Co. in Detroit. Now he's director of research and engineering, Associated Spring Corp. Sportwise, he's really good at shooting a gun, is one of the best marksmen in Michigan. He likes to shoot live game, to shoot at targets, to break clay pigeons at trap or skeet. His other hobby is fishing.

All four of the University of Michigan graduates on this Council are vice-presidents . . . and all except Zimmerli will be serving on the Council for the first time.

P. C. ACKERMAN, 1956 vice-president for Passenger Car Activity, went right into the automobile business as soon as he graduated. Started in with Continental Motors, then went to Maxwell—which later became a part of Chrysler Corp. with which Ackerman ended up 10 years later. In the meantime, he was associated with Timken-Detroit Axle Co. and Timken Roller Bearing Co. But in between those two, he spent a year or so with Doble Steam Motors in San Francisco working on the famous Doble steam car. Since 1924, he's been with Chrysler engineering and is now executive engineer of the corporation's Engineering Division.

W. E. JOMINY, Chrysler's chief research metallurgist, is 1956 vice-president for Engineering Materials Activity. He got his Master's degree from Michigan in 1916 and has been in automotive work ever since . . . except for a seven-year hitch in the late '20s in the Department of Engineering Research back at Michigan. Jominy has published in excess of 50 articles which contribute to the scientific literature of ferrous metallurgy. He, too, has received the Albert Sauveur Achievement Award from the American Society for ACTIVE IN HIS HOME SECTION. (Montreal) as well as being 1956 VP for Air Transport Activity, is J. T. Dymont.

TWO PAST-PRESIDENTS are members of each SAE Council. In 1956 they are 1955 SAE President C. G. A. Rosen (left) and 1954 SAE President William Littlewood.

Metals (1944), and a citation from Michigan for outstanding contributions in the field of engineering.

T. M. ROBIE, 1956 vice-president for Diesel Engine Activity, was the earliest of the four 1956 Councilors to graduate from Michigan. He got his Bachelor of Mechanical Engineering degree in 1914. He came into the diesel field by way of locomotives, with General Electric at Erie, Pa., followed by diesel powerplant service in New Mexico. Since he joined Fairbanks, Morse & Co. he has had experience and engineering responsibilities in sales, service, manufacturing, and design. Now he is administrative engineer of the Fairbanks, Morse Beloit Works. In SAE, he has twice been vice-chairman of the Chicago Section for Diesel Engine and Tractor Activity and currently is chairman of the Standard Practices Committee of the Diesel Engine Manufacturers Association's Standards Council.

Three Born in California

Of the three birthright Californians on the 1956 Council, only one, 1955-1956 Councilor W. G. NOSTRAND is currently a full-time Californian. In charge of sales and engineering at Winslow Engineering Co. in Oakland, he continues a full-fledged resident of his home state.

1955 President C. G. A. ROSEN has his permanent home on the edge of the Stanford University campus, and bids fair to be a full-time resident again before he finishes his term on the Council as a Past-President.

T. L. PREBLE, returning to the Council as a 1956-1957 Councilor (he was vice-president representing Transportation and Maintenance Activity in 1941), has lived East of the Missisissippi so long that news of his California birth will surprise many of his associates. Following a number of successful years as sales and service executive for several important truck manufacturers, he switched to the other side of the fence and became a fleet operator. Since then, with time out to be a War Department consultant and later a Colonel in Army Ordnance during World War II, he has been in charge of Tidewater Associated Oil Co.'s big fleet of cars and trucks, in addition to responsibilities covering service station equipment and other matters of an operating nature. His title: supervisor of automotive transportation and service station equipment. His address: New York City.

Individual Interests Varied

The 1956 vice-president representing Transportation and Maintenance is a West Coaster, but not a Californian. JULIUS GAUSSOIN has his headquarters as president of the Silver Eagle Co. in Portland, Ore. But the truck and trailer equipment he operates, as president of a common carrier freight truck operation (Nickel Plate), rolls hundreds of thousands of miles in other Pacific Coast states as well as Oregon. Gaussoin is an executive vice-president of American Trucking Association. He was born in Idaho; went to the College of Idaho; and is a skilled amateur photographer.

A. L. POMEROY, vice-president for Aircraft Powerplant Activity, has recently been given direction of Thompson Products' Nuclear Products Department.

ment. His title still is assistant director, staff research and development, Thompson Products, Inc. Also he is currently acting as a special adviser to the president of SAE on the potential relationship of nuclear developments to the Society.

Pomeroy has been with Thompson Products since 1947. Previously he held the position of manager, Engineering Operations, with Fairchild Engine Division, and automotive engineer in the Research and Development Division of Atlantic Refining Co.

F. R. NAIL, vice-president for Truck and Bus Activity, specializes in highway vehicles and military trucks. He has had military interests ever since North Carolina State College days. He got his Bachelor of Science and a 2nd Lieutenantcy simultaneously. The latter came from completion of the college's Advanced Reserve Officer Training Corps course.

Nail joined Mack in a junior engineering capacity in 1934; served on active duty during World War II in the Army's Office of the Chief of Staff. At the end of the war he was chief, engineering branch, Office of the Chief of Ordnance—Detroit . . . and a lieutenant-colonel. Now, as Mack's assistant chief engineer, he is Mack's military consultant to the Defense Department.

F. O. HOSTERMAN, vice-president for Aircraft Activity, is vice-president in charge of sales for Weston Hydraulics, Ltd. He came to this position following long engineering experience with Lockheed. There he was design specialist responsible for coordination of hydraulic and pneumatic system problems. He is currently chairman of SAE's important technical committee (A-6A) which deals with hydraulic system materials. He is also a member of the technical advisory panel for aeronautics to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Research and Development. Besides being elected chairman of the Southern California Section, Hosterman has been a general chairman of SAE's National Aeronautic Meeting in Los Angeles and has served as vice-chairman for meetings of the Aircraft Activity Committee.

M. C. HORINE, continues as consulting engineer, Mack Trucks, as he completes his 1955-1956 term as Councilor. He has contributed actively to almost every phase of SAE activity since he became a member of the Society in 1917. He has been a Section chairman, a vice-president, a chairman of important technical and standards committees, and served in many administrative and advisory posts. His connection with the automotive industry dates back to 1907, with A. C. Stewart of Los Angeles, a builder of marine gasoline engines and agent for the Dorris car.

A. W. POPE, JR., is another who returns to the Council, where he first served as vice-president for Diesel Engine Activity nearly 20 years ago. Pope, who is chief research engineer of Waukesha Motor Co., joins the 1956 Council as one of the three Councilors for 1956-1957. . . . Pope got his mechanical engineering degree at M.I.T. in 1918, after completing an academic course at Yale. He has contributed outstandingly to SAE technical committees and Coordinating Research Council work.

S. C. HETH, a Wisconsinite born and bred, has been working at J. I. Case Co. (Racine, Wis.), ever since he left school. He started as an apprentice draftsman; is now chief product engineer for the J. I. Case main work. He is an expert on all types of farm equipment commonly used in North and South America and Europe. He is 1956 vice-president for Tractor and Farm Equipment Activity.

K. E. COPPOCK, vice-president for Body Activity, is assistant chief engineer of GMC's Fisher Body Division. He came into body engineering by way of "art and color," first with Fisher, then with GMC's Styling Section. He rejoined Fisher after World War II, and in 1949 became assistant to the general director of Fisher Body Central Engineering. He has been assistant chief engineer for several years. His first automotive job was in a custom body drafting department not long after he finished his education. He attended Albion College; then went on to Wayne University. His hobbies include amateur theatricals. He's a member of the Pleasant Ridge Community Players and Ridgedale Players. It was in 1953-1954 that he was Detroit Section chairman.

SAE Memorial Committees

Number of years in parentheses indicates numbers of years left to be served

L. Ray Buckendale Lectures Committee

E. P. Lamb, Chairman
 R. R. Burkhalter
 C. A. Lindblom

The L. Ray Buckendale Lectures provide for a cash award and certificate for an annual lecture and monograph by a distinguished authority in the technical areas of commercial or military ground vehicles, directed toward filling the needs of young engineers and students for up-to-date practical knowledge.

Manly Memorial Medal Board of Award

Kenneth Campbell, Chairman (1 yr.)
 R. W. Young (2 yrs.)
 Allan Chilton (3 yrs.)

The Manly Memorial Medal shall be awarded annually to the author of the best paper relating to theory or practice in the design or construction of, or research on, aeronautic powerplants or their parts or accessories which shall have been presented at a meeting of the Society or any of its Sections during the calendar year.

Wright Brothers Medal Board of Award

W. B. Bergen, Chairman (1 yr.)
 F. W. Fink (2 yrs.)
 C. L. Johnson (3 yrs.)

The Wright Brothers Medal shall be awarded annually to the author of the best paper on aerodynamics or structural theory or research, or airplane design or construction, which shall have been presented at a meeting of the Society or any of its Sections during the calendar year. If in the opinion of the judges there has been presented during a given calendar year no paper dealing with these subjects worthy of the award, the judges may award the medal for that year to the author of the best paper on any other aeronautic subject.

Horning Memorial Award Committee

H. W. Best, Chairman (1 yr.)
 Lloyd Withrow (2 yrs.)
 John G. Moxey, Jr. (3 yrs.)

The Harry L. Horning Memorial Medal and cash award shall be granted annually or less frequently to the author of the best paper relating to the adaptation of fuels to internal-combustion engines or the adaptation of internal-combustion engines to fuels which shall have been presented at a meeting of the Society or any of its Sections during any calendar year.

Should the Board of Award find that no paper of outstanding merit has been presented by an eligible person during any given calendar year, the medal and cash award for that year may be granted in recognition of distinguished active service in the field of mutual adaptation of fuels and engines, provided that the recipient shall first present a Horning Memorial Lecture on an appropriate subject at a designated meeting of the Society.

SAE MEMBERS

Alphabetically

Listed

• 1956

IN the Alphabetical Roster (page 26) the business address of the member is given. If the member has requested that mail be sent to another address, the preferred mail address is also given preceded by "(mail)". Where the name of the city does not follow the mail address, the same city as that of the business address is to be understood.

The letters in parentheses after the member's name signify:

- (M) — Member
- (LM) — Life Member
- (A) — Associate
- (J) — Junior
- (Depart'I) — Departmental Member

The number in parentheses signifies the year of election to membership.

The information contained in this issue is supplemented by the publication in each issue of the SAE Journal of the names of all new members who have qualified, and of changes of address of old members.
